

The spaces and leger lines
of the treble clef

The diagram shows a treble clef staff with a G-clef. Below the staff, a triangle points upwards, indicating the sequence of notes: F (bottom line), A (first space), C (second space), and E (third space). Above the staff, a triangle points downwards, indicating the sequence of notes: F (first space), A (second space), C (third space), and E (top line). The notes are placed on the staff as follows: F on the bottom line, A in the first space, C in the second space, E in the third space, F in the first space above the staff, A in the second space above the staff, C in the third space above the staff, and E on the top line above the staff.

© 2012 R A Chappell / www.musicarta.com
All rights reserved. For private study use only.

The spaces and leger lines
of the bass clef

The diagram shows a bass clef staff with an F-clef. Below the staff, a triangle points upwards, indicating the sequence of notes: A (bottom line), C (first space), E (second space), and G (third space). Above the staff, a triangle points downwards, indicating the sequence of notes: A (first space), C (second space), E (third space), and G (top line). The notes are placed on the staff as follows: A on the bottom line, C in the first space, E in the second space, G in the third space, A in the first space above the staff, C in the second space above the staff, E in the third space above the staff, and G on the top line above the staff.

© 2012 R A Chappell / www.musicarta.com
All rights reserved. For private study use only.